Nesting boxes thoughtfully designed for their inhabitants!

THE RED SQUIRREL NEST BOX

SITING

Red Squirrel Nest Boxes should be sited in woodland, rather than on isolated trees. The box should be fitted around 3 to 4 metres high. Site the box away from direct sun, but not exposed to the wettest weather.

The box can be fitted to the tree with screws or nails, or if preferred using string or cable round the tree.

It is worth putting straw or other litter to about half fill the box, and leaving a stick inside which can be used to help the young get out of the box.

MANAGEMENT

As red squirrels are protected species, it is not appropriate to open the box if it is likely to be in use (without an appropriate licence).

Only clean out the box if you are sure it is not in use.
