THE WALL MOUNTED BIRD FEEDER

SITING

Fit the feeder to the wall using a screw or nail in the mounting hole on the back of the feeder. The birds will feed more readily if it is placed where they have an uninterrupted view of any animals or other birds that might approach the feeder, so it is worth making sure that it is fitted onto a clear part of the wall they can see anything coming, and which is difficult for squirrels or rats to reach.

FILLING

To fill the Wall Mounted Bird Feeder, simply remove the nylon lid on one side, and fill it with peanuts or other coarse bird feed such as sunflower seeds. This can be done in situ. A wide necked funnel will make filling easier. After filling push the lid back on.

MANAGEMENT

From time to time, check that the feed has not become waterlogged or clogged up at the bottom of the feeder. If necessary, clean out the feed and replace with fresh.
